

LNDL FACULTY CONNECT

Issue 001

Start your semester off right at the Library!

Welcome to the first edition of the LNDL Faculty Connect newsletter – LNDL’s new tool to support your research and teaching! Librarians have been busy this summer creating content, prepping the new OneSearch tool, engaging in AI conversations, and developing programming for you and your students.

AI Literacy for Fall

Let LNDL guide you and your students in the latest on AI literacy:

- Share our AI Research Guide.
- Request a 50-minute AI literacy session to educate students about the use of AI in research.
- Get our latest online tutorials in AI literacy by visiting Moodle (Loyola) or Brightspace (Notre Dame) and incorporate them into your classes.

Librarians Kristina Wagner and Kate Strain led LNDL through an interactive virtual AI Literacy workshop during late July. The workshop helped establish a baseline knowledge of AI for all library staff.

A Letter from Library Director Katy O'Neill

"There are no safe paths in this part of the world. Remember you are over the Edge of the Wild now, and in for all sorts of fun wherever you go."

— J.R.R. Tolkien, The Hobbit

A balloon could have popped in the room, and I would have never looked up from The Hobbit.

"She'd just keep turning the page!" is what my mother would say.

At age 13, Tolkien's masterpiece was one of the first books that blew me away. It transported me to another realm where creatures from all different walks of life banded together in both courage and fear to save their common world.

And ohhh, the adventures – the fun – they had along the way!

That vivid fantasy world created by this classic author helped me grow and stretch my brain in ways I'd never thought of before.

This year LNDL hopes to take you on a similar journey with the roll out of LNDL's Reading Is... program.
